Please Note: If you have any problems or concerns about your new cup, please contact me. This does not include normal wear and tear, or any of the instructions/warnings on the tumbler care list that were not followed. I will work with you on the issues at hand. But because these tumblers are hand made by me and are a craft, they are not perfect! There may be some imperfections that's part of it! I will put all my hard work into making these as perfect as possible before giving the cup to you.
